

OFFICIAL STATEMENT FROM MÉXICO REPUBLICANO

MÉXICO REPUBLICANO SUPPORTS THE DEFENSE OF FREEDOMS EXPRESSED BY THE U.S. VICE PRESIDENT.

Mexico City, February 15, 2025

To Whom It May Concern:

Yesterday, during the security meeting held in Munich, Germany, the Vice President of the United States, J.D. Vance, outlined his nation's stance on issues that México Republicano considers of great importance and fully supports. In his speech, Vice President Vance made it clear that the model imposed by the Biden administration has significantly impacted autonomy and individual freedoms. He pointed out that the defense of democracy is at risk, as a new model of conceptual imposition has been established—one that restricts freedom of expression under the framework of so-called Western democracies.

He also emphasized that the fundamental purpose of democracy is to listen to its societies and the individuals that compose them, regardless of whether their ideas are accepted by the majority. In this regard, the cancellation of elections in Romania—simply because they did not favor the so-called “party of righteousness”—clearly demonstrates that Europe has lost the democratic course it once charted alongside the United States.

The Vice President further warned that, in Europe, there are no external enemies as powerful as the internal enemies who undermine their own societies from within. This reality is not limited to Europe but extends to much of the Western world, including Mexico, where ideas are imposed, positions are silenced, and decisions are made at the highest levels of power under the pretext of pursuing the “common good.” In practice, these actions limit the individual's ability to make decisions for themselves.

México Republicano firmly believes that the human person must be the central focus of State action and that, therefore, the decisions individuals make in full awareness must be deeply respected by public institutions. For this reason, we adhere to the statements made by the Vice President of the Vice President of the United States and share his reflections, which we consider relevant to our daily reality as well.

Sincerely,

Freedom, Greatness, and Strength.
